Chinese War

Canada's ambassador to China, T. C. Davis, has been ordered to take responsibility for protecting Canadian citizens in China. Prime Minister St. Laurent told parliament he has issued such instructions to Mr. Davis. A unit of the Canadian navy is standing by to evacuate Canadians.

O. A. Kelly, who first cut through the pipe, is still living in an unemployment insurance.

Labor

Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell is not going to let Communists make monkey of him in the Canadian shipping strike. Mr. Mitchell told the Commons he will not be a "deceit duck" for the Communist Party, adding he has received many letters in the language only used by Communists.

Aviation

Norwegian-born Gunnar Ingebrigtsen was said to be the only man who could fly a single-engine plane to Arctic Bay, 1,000 miles north of Port Churchill. Ingebrigtsen didn't disappoint for he landed at Arctic Bay recently in a Norseman. Flight is believed a world record for single-engine planes flying in the arctic.

Industry

Canadian steel mills set a new production record in March, turning out 237,885 tons of steel ingots. Production this year to date is eight percent over 1948.

MINISTER MITCHELL
... A new language.

Great Britain

A big drive is underway in Britain to import more Canadian timber. It is sponsored by the Timber Development Association. Britishers contend that each ton of imported Canadian timber will release more than one ton of steel for export, and also help solve housing, ship-building and mining problems. Industries suffering from an acute shortage of timber.

Commonwealth

South Africa has no intention of leaving the British Commonwealth of Nations providing such inclusion is not a "straw in the balance." The Government of the Prime Minister Daniel Malan of South Africa who also approves of the Atlantic Pact.

People

The men who defied death in the attempt to rescue little Kathy Flue are still trying to find work. Some are looking forward eagerly to receiving a share of the $40,000 fund raised by citizens of California.

Politics

The Progressive Conservatives are going to tend strictly to their political knitting, and the dying days of parliament. Word has gone out for all PC members to stick to their seats so they can muster full voting strength on every issue.

Wallace's remarks at the close of the afternoon drama with the western company's choice of setting. Director Len Dobbe, stage manager Frank Carter and John Jackson, in charge of lighting, were commended for a "re-markably beautiful and logical production" of a play which was the author had intended. It was indeed a "brilliant effort."

Bill on Pipe-Line Nearing Approval

parities contemplated bringing gas into Ontario, said, "I don't know how much further east they intend to go."

Mr. Smith, who as a lawyer drew up Alberta's Oil and Gas Conservation Act, said he wanted to see the federal measure cover two points:

1. That the gas lines would be common carriers.

2. That Alberta's powers would not be diminished.

PRICE EFFECT CITED

He also said care should be taken to see that the gas lines would not increase in the price now being paid in western Canada.

Mr. Smith said efforts had been made to find out the quantity of oil available in Alberta. A commission established to make a survey estimated that the proven gas reserves of the province amounted to 475,000,000,000 cubic feet. Other estimates placed it at 11,000,000,000,000 cubic feet.

Mr. Smith warned that Alberta's conservation program was in danger. It would be not careful about its conservation of the oil.

At the same time, he felt the legislation was "most important and urgent" and it would go through.

CONSERVATION PROGRAM

But he said the people of Alberta were concerned about the bill and that it was not as simple as it seemed. He said that everything was contained in it which would give the province the conservation program.

He recalled that the Alberta Conservation of Lands and Resources had told a common committee that the province wanted to be sure that the oil companies going into that territory "will honor our conservation program."

The province would control the oil and the pipelines within its borders. It would have no jurisdiction over inter-provincial pipelines. The pipelines designated as "common carriers."

This would mean that the oil companies would have to purchase from all wells and other producers in the province.

DEVELOPMENT REVIEW

He reviewed the development of the conservation program and reviewed the waste which occurred in the Turner Valley oil field when valuable gas was allowed to burn away. There now was not sufficient gas to propel it to the surface.

The conservation program, which preserved the gas, was described as the finest in the continent.

Mr. Low said there was grave doubt as to whether a province had the power to make a pipeline company a common carrier subject to the conservation measures of that province.

Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East) said he was convinced of the necessity for pipelines to enable the marketing of Alberta oil.

He believed, however, that the legislation could be improved and he hoped the government would be agreeable to some amendments.

He said he was interested particularly in the protection of gas users in southern Alberta.

MEMBERS ASSURED

Transport Minister Chevrier said he could assure members that the legislation would not interfere with provincial rights in any way. It would not control prices, interfere with production or with the work of the Alberta Gas and Oil Conservation Board.

Mr. Chevrier said the legislation would be passed by parliament because the pipelines would extend from one province through another.

He told Mr. Low that law officers believed it would be unconstitutional for parliament to make the pipelines common carriers.

Mr. Chevrier said he has not the slightest doubt that Alberta resources will be unaffected by the bill.

Mr. Smith said there was some question in his mind as to whether the federal government could authorize the export of petroleum and natural gas which Alberta did not want exported.

ST. LAURENT SPEAKS

Prime Minister St. Laurent stepped into the debate and said that speaking as a lawyer and not as a member of the government he felt he might clarify that point.

The crown, in the right of the province owned the resources of the province. The crown alone could dictate what happened to the resources.

He believed parliament could regulate exports, but he did not think it could force a province to export anything it did not wish to export.

Mr. Low moved an amendment to the effect that no company would be allowed to export oil.

He said that the bill was a common carrier subject to the conservation measures of that province.

from a province without the consent of the provincial cabinet.

He moved the amendment, he said, because he was not convinced that there was sufficient protection for the province.

INVASION SUGGESTED

Mr. St. Laurent said the amendment, if adopted by the commonsense, would be an "unwarranted" invasion of the provincial field.

The province itself had the right to make such a law if it wanted.

Mr. Low said he thought adoption of the amendment would constitute a recognition by parliament that the rights of the province should be respected.

By a standing vote of 33 to 22, the amendment was defeated.

In the vote, the three opposition parties lined up against the government.

John Probe (CCF-Regina City) followed with another amendment which would classify all pipeline companies as common carriers.

Mr. Chevrier said he had no objection to the amendment. There were technical and other reasons why the board of transport commissioners should have the authority to decide whether or not a pipeline should be made a common carrier and thus forced to carry gas or oil at rates fixed by the board.

In a standing vote, only the CCF members supported the amendment and it was declared lost.

Passion Killing

Jails Five

For Five Years

TORONTO, April 28.—(CP)—A man convicted of murdering a mother and her five children in a passion killing, today was sentenced to five years in prison.

As sentence was passed, the young housewife told Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel: "I won't go to jail for five years. I'd rather be dead."

Before passing sentence, Mr. Justice LeBel said:

Labor and Legion Score US Workers

Protests Sent to Ottawa On Influx of Laborers Here

Canadians are not getting their fair share of jobs in the great Edmonton oil fields.

This forms the basis of strong protests to Dominion Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell by Vice-President Carl Berg of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress and executive-secretary W. J. Williams of the Dominion Government follow charges from Canadians employed by American drilling companies that more than 1,000 of some 1,500 workers in the oil fields are Americans.

BORDER ACTION
Labor leader Berg is calling for a general tightening-up by immigration officials at the border. He contends investigation of workers that unveiled U.S. oil field workers are pouring into Alberta in ever-increasing numbers so permit to work six months which are obtained under any difficulty. There are taking jobs now needed by Alberta workers, he states.

The Legion protest states that American workers are aggravating the already acute housing situation by bringing families from the States.

Neither organized labor or the Legion have objection to American drilling firms bringing in their own men, or that there is a shortage in Alberta. Key personnel such as field superintendent, tool pushers and drillers may have to be imported from the U.S.A. they submit.

CANADIANS FIRST
There are, however 16 or more men employed on each of approximately 130 rigs now operating in the oil fields. Derrickmen, cathead operators and rough necks can be easily and quickly trained, and such jobs should go to Canadians, it is contended.

One oil field worker said: "There are lots of Canadian rough necks and cathead men out of work right now but Americans are given preference for jobs."

Mr. Berg said it looks like an attempt to solve a growing unemployment problem in the States at the expense of Canadian workers.

The Labor leader drew attention to an estimated $400,000 monthly payroll of which approximately $200,000 is paid each month to Americans. Many Americans send a large portion of their pay back to the States, he said.

NOT ALLOWED
"If this was a two-way proposition there would be no such objection," said Mr. Berg. "But Canadians are not allowed to cross the border into the U.S. to work whenever they like."

Mr. Berg observed the situation during construction of the Imperial Oil refinery at Clover Bar was entirely satisfactory. Practically all labor employed there was Canadian. Imperial Oil Ltd. drilling crews, of which there are only four or five, are also thoroughly Canadian.

Mr. Berg said the situation is known to be causing Unemployment Insurance Commission of

City Wage Talks Bog Down Again

Round-table discussions between union warehouse employees at Marshall-Weiss (Alberta Ltd.) in Edmonton and the company have broken down and the dispute returned to active status.

This was announced today by Secretary David Erickson of International Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Warehousemen, of which approximately 100 Marshall-Weiss employees are members.

Employees are seeking a union agreement calling for a general wage increase of 10 per cent.

After several attempts of an arbitration board under the chairmanship of G. B. Henwood, K.C., attempts were made to settle the dispute through round-table discussions between the union and the firm. These having failed, the arbitration board will resume attempts.

Plastics Prove Aid To Optic Deficiencies

Plastic eye glasses you can strike with a hammer or hurl against a stone wall without damage; plastic false eyes which move and focus as normal ones.

Those are the "miracles" modern science has given sight-damaged Canadians.

Some Edmontonians are already making use of the new devices, and demonstrating their usefulness and amaze spectators by casually talking them off and on, and then putting them on again as if by magic.

Development of the all-plastic glasses is a British scientist's accomplishment resulting in success 18 months ago after years of experimenting with plastic materials.

The lenses, now obtained in the routine state from Great Britain, are ground and fitted to specifications in Canada. They are available in Edmonton, Mr. Hermant said, and are heavy in demand by youngsters who are getting over American, scientific, also using plastic, were recently successful in overcoming the physical and psychological handicap for persons who need artificial eyes, Mr. Hermant said.

TO LIVE ANOTHER 100 YEARS? That's the hope of 68-year-old river bank dweller "Art" Ford. Beloved by children and adults alike, the English-born hermit, 72 1/2 years ago built his cabin on the north shore of the Saskatchewan, believes his mode of life promotes longevity. This impression of the well-known West End character was sketched by Calvin Segur after Ford many times refused to be photographed.

'Grey-Bearded Recluse Avows to Rewrite Bible

By Barbara Abbott
On the north bank of the Saskatchewan river near Edmonton's west end lives a grey-bearded hermit.

He has dwelt there for 13 years, untouched by the passing of time and unswayed by the bright lights of the surrounding city.

His name is Ford. But to all the children in the district he is just "Art."

"They love him for his kindliness and respect him for his beliefs. To them he is more than an odd character who lives near the water's edge listening to the wind in the trees and talking to the birds."

He is the "wonderful old guy" who tells them tales of the northland, who cares for sick animals and who teaches them the beauties of nature.

REWRITING BIBLE
In winter as well as other seasons of the year, they gather in his quaint old log cabin near 140 street on the river bank to listen to his stories. Or sometimes they just sit, while "Art" gets on with his life work—that of re-writing the Bible.

From studies made during his wanderings in various parts of the Dominion he believes there is much which can be improved.

On shelves which line the walls of his home are piles of manuscripts bearing his neat, flowing writing. They contain connected biographies of biblical characters, and recitals of many chapters of the Bible.

FORSEES WAR
The hermit's tanned, weathered face grew sad as he told me of a future war with Russia. There is nothing which can prevent that, he said, for "it is written."

Not only does he believe this great new conflict between nations inevitable, but he thinks he will live another hundred or more years.

"That his mode of life is such which promotes longevity, he is sure."

Civic Opera Ends Season
Successful culmination of another Civic Opera Society season was marked with dancing and feasting at the Coronas hotel last night.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the $100 scholarship to help winners carry on with musical studies.

Receiving the scholarships were Jacqueline Battersby, for many lead performances, makeup and charter member service; Sherrill Lanyon for leading parts in Rose Marie and The Bohemian Girl; Mary Betts, for hard work and faithful membership; and Boris John Melnyk, who played King of the Opeyias in The Bohemian Girl last year.

Standing in for duet Harry Ainsley was C. R. Garley, who congratulated the Society on fine musical work.

Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, musical director, also praised the work of the society and thanked the members for original Civic Opera Beauties of The Bohemian Girl which were presented to her last month.

Golf balls and a table Ronson went to Tommy Dalziel, dramatic director, and three pair of cymbals to chorus director, Pamela Ouse.

Church Group Defers Decision On New Pastor

Decision on the appointment of a minister to Metropolitan United church to succeed Rev. M. McElroy Thompson was deferred at a congregational meeting held last night at the church.

Several well-qualified candidates were considered but further consideration was deemed necessary and it was felt there was no immediate need for a decision. A meeting will be held later, possibly in September, to decide the issue.

Retirement of Rev. Thompson, minister of the church for the past 13 years was announced last night. His pastorate will end June 30.

On the Law's Side

The current wave of child vandalism in Edmonton, revealing itself in shooting episodes, should induce the police commissioners to re-examine the junior police plan advanced by Constable D. R. McNaughton some months ago and rejected by the mayor as a "junior gestapo."

Whatever criticisms were leveled against this plan, unjustly and even extravagantly, no one denied that it would tend to draw children over to the side of law and order.

No one attempted to deny that it would give children something interesting and useful to do instead of walking the streets and looking for trouble.

For all this delinquent violence stems, not so much from any natural evil in the child, as from pure boredom.

If maintaining order is made to appear more enthralling and romantic than smashing windows and taking pot shots at trains and street cars, vandalism is in a fair way to being eliminated.

Certainly the junior police force would have made and still could make the preservation of law more interesting to children than the breaking of it.

Certain officials are said to have laid the blame for this outbreak of violence on parents and to have asserted that the education of parents is the first step in the war on delinquency.

There are, it is true, a few parents who wilfully neglect their children.

But many of the boys who have been drawn into these bands of destructive violence come from excellent homes and of thoughtful and devoted parents.

It is nonsense, therefore, to say it is all the parents' fault.

It is the fault of those who held back and objected when a plan was presented for harnessing youthful energy on the side of the police.

The charge that the junior police force would be a "gestapo," encourages children to tell tales on their fellows is utterly frivolous.

One would have to have a very poor opinion of Edmonton children to believe that a junior police force could make sneaks of them overnight.

And one must have a strange view of the duties of citizenship to refuse to teach children that the first duty of any citizen is to prevent crime and not to keep a still tongue in his head.

With the alarming increase in shootings and other juvenile offences, it is not child that child vandalism has come completely out of hand.

The junior police force plan offers a remedy.

Is the prejudice against that remedy too bigoted and fanatic to permit it to be tried?

Columnist Starts Trip to Britain Aboard Freighter

PHILPOTT

Should Mr. Cape Hawk—

The difference between sailing by regular passenger liner and by freighter is that the latter is not content with a load of about 500 tons of cargo. A Canadian hired what they told him was a long enough to stay in her great staterooms. B.C. lumber.

I haven't got around to asking them they actually did not. But it was it is on top of the grain.

It was after five o'clock when the pilot finally took this trip ship out past Lion's Gate Bridge.

I heard later that the lights of Vancouver never looked more beautiful. I wouldn't know. For I went down to the ship's deck and saw the lights of the city.

The heavy swells of the turbulent sea off the coast of the State of Washington completed the rout.

But by this morning the good lady has begun to look slightly more cheerful. The rolling motion seems to be less violent tonight.

Refusal to Review Is High Handed

The refusal of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to review its decision on six-day milk delivery until the trial period is ended on July 31 is high handed and unjustified.

Moreover it sets up a very real threat to public health in Edmonton because by July 31 this city will already have experienced, we hope, a considerable period of hot weather.

And hot weather, to the many Edmonton families without refrigeration, will mean spoiled milk over weekends and a menace to the well-being of children.

If the demand for a re-hearing of the six-day delivery rule were made only by a few individuals, one could understand the reluctance of the Board to interfere with the completion of the trial period.

It would be a merit, under those circumstances, to insist that the innovation have a fair trial.

But the protest is too heavy and too authoritative to be thus brushed off.

First and foremost, for instance, is the statement of Dr. G. M. Little, Edmonton's medical officer of health, that the six-day system is dangerous to health under present circumstances.

And one must have a strange view of the duties of citizenship to refuse to teach children that the first duty of any citizen is to prevent crime and not to keep a still tongue in his head.

With the alarming increase in shootings and other juvenile offences, it is not child that child vandalism has come completely out of hand.

Editor, Bulletin—On behalf of the Y.M.C.A. Club may I extend our sincere thanks to you for the splendid assistance you gave our recent radio auction.

Your news items and pictures brought to all your readers a most interesting description of the actual auction.

Words alone can never fully express our appreciation of what you did to help us in our need.

It is a reflection upon the democratic nature of our form of government to see a member of parliament is supposed to go to Ottawa to transact his business and to exclusion of the business of his own constituency.

If private bills are shelved for lack of time it might be well to remember that neither the commons nor the senate is overworked.

Compared to the members of the British house, which sits almost continually, the members of the Canadian house are not so frantically overworked with duties that they have no time to spare.

It is not democracy at work.

This Is Not Democracy at Work

The sudden announcement of the dissolution of parliament will leave a number of private bills hanging in the air just to show that democracy is not always what it seems.

This year, 32 bills and 44 resolutions will never get to the vote.

It is not an unusually large number because every time a house is dissolved or prorogued, most of the private bills presented for enactment are left out. Only the odd one comes up for debate.

Now it is obvious that some control must be kept over private bills else the house would be swamped with them and no time would be left for essential government business.

But the batting average of these private bills seems to be distressingly low. The mortality rate among them is alarmingly high.

Clearly, every private bill presented should not be passed. But it is a reflection upon the intelligence of individual members when it is assumed, as it seems to be, that no private member can come up with anything worth talking about.

India to Remain In Commonwealth

Stays After She Becomes
Sovereign Republic Soon

By Alan Harvey

LONDON, April 28.—(CP)—India's continued membership in the Commonwealth after she becomes a sovereign republic, under a constitution expected to take effect next August, was assured today in a historic declaration by the eight members of the world's oldest family of nations.

In 22 words the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon jointly pledged themselves "to remain united as free and equal members of the commonwealth of nations, freely co-operating in the pursuit of peace, liberty and progress."

The eight-power declaration embodied in a statement made public simultaneously in all commonwealth capitals, was the fruit of the commonwealth conference here of seven prime ministers and L. B. Pearson, Canada's minister for external affairs.

SOLVES PROBLEM

It produced a way out of one of the most formidable constitutional problems in commonwealth history—how a monarchy and a republic can exist in the same framework.

In effect the eight commonwealth governments agreed that nothing in their relationship except India's allegiance to the king would be changed when India becomes a republic. Under the new constitution India will elect her own president to take the place of a governor-general, now appointed by the king.

Two Tons of Bubble Gum Are Driving Town Crazy

DETROIT, April 28.—(UP)—Sheriff's deputies had double bubble trouble yesterday in about two tons of bubble gum.

It started Sunday when kids in nearby Southfield township found 100 cartons of bubble gum—roughly two tons—near a dump.

It was the cheapest, cheapest heaven a kid ever dreamed of—all 200,000 sticks of it.

Word spread quickly on the kiddie grapevine. By yesterday the Sheriff's office was getting calls from excited teachers and parents saying their youngsters had gum all but coming out of their ears.

Deputy Deane Keelien got some of the kids to tell them where the cache was.

He reported some gum "for the whole state of Michigan."

Most of the cartons had been ripped open. Some had been carried off. One youngster had three cartons under his bed.

No one knows how the gum got there. The Sheriff's office said it must have been dumped off by a truck Saturday night.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Church Observes 50th Anniversary

WETASKIWIN, April 28.—With special services spread over three days the Vang Lutheran Church of Millet and Wetaskiwin district celebrated its fiftieth anniversary April 22-24. Visiting speakers were Rev. T. W. Makostoff of Edmonton, Dr. O. K. Storvall of Saskatoon, both of these from outside the Camrose Circuit Convention.

BOND ISSUE FOR HOSPITAL IS APPROVED

Lloydminster, April 28.—Although there are still a few minor matters to be straightened by the two provincial governments of Alberta and Saskatchewan, progress is being made towards the creation of the new $200,000 hospital in Lloydminster. Hospital board has been given the okay to go ahead and advertise for the sale of the bonds and it is expected that orders will be asked for within the next month.

It is understood there will be very little difficulty in disposing of them. Tenders will be called for as soon as the plans have received their final approval, which have already been approved by both of the provincial governments.

Teachers Arrange For Track Meet

HAIDISTY, April 28.—Cas-Haidisty Sub-Local A.T.A., met in Cas recently. There was a good attendance and the subject of discussion was a spring sports meet.

It was decided to hold a Track Meet at Haidisty, on May 23. The high school will participate in the all-day meet, which will consist of about 10 major events. There will be no soft ball entries this year.

Arrangements will be in the hands of the Haidisty staff. Next meeting is in Amisk on May 11.

Other speakers included Rev. A. M. Vinje, Camrose; Rev. R. O. Olson, Ardena; Rev. S. J. Rude of Regina; Rev. S. Stoen of Battle River; K. C. Grundahl of Camrose.

Special musical numbers were given by the Vang choir and soloists by Dr. Gulliksen and Tancred Lygsten.

SESSIONS ON SATURDAY
The business session of the Camrose Circuit Convention, reports and discussion, Lutheran World action, the budget, Lutheran Placement service and talk on Lutheran schools all took place on Saturday morning.

The history of the congregation was given by Mrs. H. Gulliksen on Sunday afternoon. The Vang Ladies Aid was organized April 29, 1908 and its history over the 49 years was also reviewed. The history of the Ladies Aid was given by Mrs. Johnson.

A fellowship dinner was held at noon on Sunday at which special tribute was paid to the first member of the congregation to resign from the church. This was Oliver Kjorlien and by coincidence it was also Mr. Kjorlien's birthday.

CHURCH BUILT
Early services of the congregation were held in homes of the residents, but a church was commenced in 1908. A year later ten acres of land were purchased which the Ladies Aid helped to finance.

In the spring of 1931 the first church burned down but within six months a new church building was completed and on July 1932 the new church was dedicated by Rev. Akre, president of the district.

All services throughout the season, and other meetings, were largely attended both by district residents and visitors from outside.

MARTIN IS 2 HOURS LATE THIS SPRING

RED DEER, April 28.—W. J. Botterill, Red Deer, reports that a lone purple martin arrived at his home on Sunday evening, the first one to be seen back in Red Deer this spring. April 24 has been the returning date for martins for many years and Mr. Botterill says they have even made that date when the weather has been bad.

The 1910 first-come flew in about 6 p.m., a couple of hours later than usual, and looked over Mr. Botterill's birdhouses. Mr. Botterill is a member and past president of the Alberta Natural History Society here and has had martin meeting around his home for the past fourteen years or so.

Many enquiries are being received by the management and already four entries have been made and more clubs have phoned in their intention of entering.

With a total of $2,400 being offered and a jack pot of $2,000 for the winning team, the greatest ball clubs of western Canada and the northern States have their eyes on the big two day event at the prosperous oil town on the border of Alberta and Saskatchewan midway between Edmonton and Saskatoon. The second place team will receive $750 and the third and fourth place clubs will be handed a cheque for $225. There is a limit set for 14 teams and the entry fee is $100.

Ball fans will be provided with sleeping quarters and with dinner and supper for the two days free of charge by the Lloydminster Branch of the Canadian Legion which is sponsoring the big event in aid of funds for the Memorial Hall. In addition to the ball feature there will be a complete midway on the grounds and a big dance in the evening of both nights.

Italy Rebuilding In Great Beauty

Italian Scene Today Gives Great Contrast to Germany

By George McCullagh

Publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail

ROME, April 28.—The Italian goes on rebuilding as Italians and the Marshall plan chips into help (big chips indeed, though). The big hollow space which once was the railway station in Rome is being rebuilt, or rather built anew. A totally new station is almost completed. It is artistic, it is solid, it is beautiful.

You get a queer feeling as you walk around this ancient city, mingling with the seemingly endless chains of crowds which fill the basilicas and churches during the week. This queer feeling must be of some interest to you.

If Mussolini had waited a little longer, how wonderful it would have been if he had completed his program for the magnificent buildings for the World Exposition in 1942. Italy would have made a great deal of money out of that exposition instead of having shot down the drain the very substance of its economic life by joining Hitler.

MUSOLINI'S INSPIRATION

Mussolini, like every other Italian in the street, derived a great deal of inspiration from Rome with its colossal, many forums of the Caesars, and the ancient basilicas. True, following in the path of the ancient Roman emperors, he built himself a magnificent forum. True, it is the tribute of Mussolini, to Mussolini, but it is a beautiful forum. It is as Italian as the Italian. If he had only continued in his constructive program as he did in rebuilding the ancient seaside port of Rome.

I, for one have found little reason here against Mussolini. Perhaps the judgment of history and our own would have been entirely different if Benito Mussolini had not turned the way of all Hitler.

What might have happened if he had died in 1940? His country might not have lived to see history told of Mussolini in contempt, to see the greatest center of medical learning—Salerno—destroyed more efficiently today than it was one thousand years ago, and to see his country betrayed and strangled, yet, strained, despite its possible bright future.

ANA PAUKER, 56, already former minister, moved up another notch in the Communist-dominated Romanian government to become second vice premier. Her elevation to the third highest post in Romania consolidates her position as one of the most important Communists in Romania.

When the Germans learn to walk the path of peace and believe in the old adage that "he who lives by the sword will die by the sword."

In our own selfish interests and for obvious humane reasons, we should be quite happy to see the German race flourish economically if they can, but believe me, if they acquire anything more dangerous than a water gun, let's go in and take it away from them.

A keen hankering for peace comes over everyone who sees Europe today. It is like a healing ointment to spread Hitler's blood-mingling with the crowds who walk from church to church to pay homage to Christ.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—This may classify in the dream department, but Frank Sinatra is eager to star in "Carrousel" on the screen.

The crooner says he has been urging producer Arthur Freed to get MGM to buy the Rogers-Hammerstein musical. Sinatra promises that the lead "could be played by a little guy" like myself. The hero in the play was a struggling poet.

Sinatra, Jules Munshin and director Gene Kelly leave May 7 for New York, where they'll shoot exteriors for "On the Town." Orson Welles appears to be all set for his version of "Othello." He is reported to be in Mexico scouting locations. He has messaged Betty Blair (Gene Kelly's wife) to report for shooting in mid-May.

Andy Devine sold his North Hollywood flying school to his partner, "I'm going to devote my full time to the entertainment business," says the gravel-throated comic.

Louis Calhern gets his first musical workout in 30 years when he does "Nancy Goes To Rio." He has numbers with Jane Powell. Ann Sothern and Carmen Miranda. Eddie Cantor is mad as a hornet about the radio awards and has challenged Mr. Hepper to an air debate. So far, no deal.

The Elmore Taylor-Gladys Davis romance can now be counted out. He hum.

John Wayne won't be able to visit boyfriend Barry Nelson, who's acting in a New York play, goes from "The Red Danube" to "Bodies and Souls."

BACK ON THE SCREEN as a swashbuckling soldier-of-fortune in "The Fighting O'Flynn," which opens at the Rialto theatre tomorrow, is Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., out-fighting and out-shooting his opponents—and charming fair young co-actors with on-the-spot poetry.

Exciting Action, Romance In Film Coming to Rialto

The best motion picture Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. ever made, "The Fighting O'Flynn," is opening tomorrow at the Rialto Theatre. The picture is bright and happily entertaining all the way with never a heavy moment.

Co-starring with Fairbanks in the production is lovely Helena Carter, who provides the feminine half of the story as Brenda, Richard Greene, also starred, who gets his first heavy role in films as Lord Sedgemore, portrays an Irish army officer who attempts to betray his country.

MEET DURING HOLDUP
Fairbanks and Miss Carter meet in the film when he comes to her aid during a holdup on the highway in Dublin. He rescues her assistants and then drives her to the Irish capital where he meets her father, the Viceroy of Ireland, and her fiancé, portrayed by Greene.

Fairbanks and Greene immediately become rivals for the girl's love until the two are assigned together to capture a castle in which Napoleon's agents are hiding. Irritated with Greene's delay in the attack, Fairbanks gets inside the castle and learns that his rival is preparing to betray Ireland by helping French troops land. He finally manages to warn the French away from the coast and then reveals Greene to be a traitor, thus paving the way to romance with Miss Carter.

DARING STUNTS
Fairbanks performs some of the most daring stunts of his career. Miss Carter, a comparative newcomer, proves fascinating as Brenda, while Greene's portrayal of the betrayer adds a new facet to his well-known ability.

Greene's wife, Patricia Medina, makes her American debut in the film and turns in a performance that should raise acclamations. Trained in comic roles as Arthur Shields as the country bumpkin and J. M. Kerrigan as Fairbanks' manservant, both of them proving their worth as two of the screen's top character actors.

Horse racing in the United States attracted 25,057,307 spectators in 1948.

Then There Was the Free Lunch

Suppose a fellow came your way and made out that you should still be using canyons to light your home because, as he puts it, they were good enough "in the old days."

Or suppose it's his idea—and for the same reason—that a determined drive should be inaugurated to bring back the horse and buggy or, heaven forbid, the bustle even.

Likely you would send him packing, after which you would label him a "standstill," an individual to whom the wheels of progress are an offensive thing. "Where," you would say, "is a guy who doesn't know what year it is?"

For our money (that's a joke, son) too many of these same individuals are making the rounds in an attempt to perpetuate the name "Eskimos" for the football squad Annis (Big Stule) Stulus is working so hard to mold these times.

"Think of the great Eskimo teams that Deason White took east to challenge for the Canadian title," they remind. "We can't just toss the old name out of the window!"

Open the Window, Richard

Can't toss the "old name" out of the window? Certainly we can. Most certainly we should.

And those name, Cunniff-Yankee-In-King-Arthur's-court gets the whyfore of the name in the first place. Chances are not too many of them can recall why it seemed like a good idea, even in those hoary days.

Certainly there weren't any more Eskimos back and winging it up and down Jasper avenue in the years just following World War One than there are today. And it's reliably reported that not a one has been seen, even in the vicinity of the CPR station, nor high on to three wheels.

As for proximity to the arctic circle it must be upwards of 1,000 miles from Edmonton, even as a North Star flies, to those regions where the seal-skins hang their fur tails.

So why Eskimos? Why not as well North Poles or Arctic Wastes or some other such non-significant handle for the Stulus Stumblers (we hope not)?

Paging the Smithsonian Institute

Should the name be Ollers? We think so, for what it's worth. But others have been suggested... Huskies, Flyers, Auroras and more.

At hand is a letter from Wally Adair, well-known sportsman. He's telling a big yen for Huskies, explains that "I have talked to several different fans and most of them felt that it was an excellent name."

However, it seems to us that University of Saskatchewan already has a snug hold on that particular descriptive. As for Flyers that would appear to be encroaching on the territory of the pucksters who operate out of the Exhibition grounds. With respect to Auroras we have always seen it, singular version, as a girl's name, period.

Which leaves us with the Ollers... or something better.

But no matter let's not get left with Eskimos, no more than let's turn the clock back to the days of the candle, horse and buggy or, heaven forbid, bustle even.

No, as Archie of Duffy's Tavern might put it: "Leave us turn the venerable old name over to the Smithsonian Institute, there to be enshrined with the mukluks, spearheads and other arctic paraphernalia brought back by Perry, Amundsen, 'Wop' May and the rest of those intrepid northern adventurers.

Or better still, leave us turn it over to John Duddy. He still thinks it's a name like none other for his baseball team.

SCRIBE PICKS CAPS TO WHIP SENATORS

All you Ottawa fans take notice: Regia Caps are going to win the Allan Cup!

So we're talking through our hats, you say? You may be right, at that, but Lloyd Jenkins, of our news staff, an Ottawan from downkins, is our authority. He has seen both clubs in action this season.

Jenkins offers three main reasons why Caps will win it all. They are:weeney Schirmer, Mel Hill and Chuck McCollough.

He seems to think their experience and Caps' two other fine forward strings will tell the tale when Regia and Frank Houder's Senators come to grips in the final series, first clash of which is slated for the capital city tonight.

And until, if they do, events prove otherwise we'll bring along with Mr. Jenkins.

All in the Family as Leaf Midgets Have Fun

THEY'RE NOT ALL CHAMPIONS but the picture shows most of the Maple Leaf 'A' midget hockey team which captured the Alberta championship by bowling over Lethbridge last month. A couple of players from other Leaf midget outfits 'smuck' into the camera's range when this picture was taken at wind-up get-together of midgets at the clubhouse last night.

Coast Footballers To Try Esk Test

At least five of the seven Vancouver football players asked to try out in Edmonton Eskimos' spring training sessions commencing Monday have agreed to make the trip. It was learned last night.

Dave Storey promised Eskimos' officials yesterday that he definitely would join the Western Conference club. Already Dmitri Coulebet, Doug Kuhl, McRobbie and Sam Casey have said they will make the trip.

The remaining pair, Doug Field and Ed Barry, still are undecided. Barry may undergo a knee operation which would force cancellation of any such plans.

Meanwhile, practice grinds for local talent continued at Clarke Stadium last night with junior aspirants supplying most of the turnouts.

The announcement of how the California scouting party headed by Earl Eley made out in the way of lining up four more imports for the club should be for some time coming now. Eley and party were expected to arrive back in the city yesterday and club officials have said information regarding the newcomers would forthcoming shortly thereafter.

Five Teams Enter Girl's Ball Loop

Five teams have entered the Intermediate Commercial Girls' Basketball league and any of them expected have until May 4 to file an application at the Recreation Commission.

Woodwards, Heavers, Metropolitan, Chiles and Woodworth already are in the circuit, which will operate at Clarke Stadium.

Anavet Practice

Anavets senior men's football practice tonight at West Kingsway, start starting at 6:30 o'clock. All team members are requested to be on hand. There still are some positions open and anyone wishing to try for the team is invited to attend.

Tomonto, April 28—(CP)—Wiliam (Flash) Holtz, longtime National Hockey league stalwart, has ended his career as an active hockey player.

Suggest Fort Frances As Olympic Delegates

REGINA, April 28—(CP)—Regia Capitals meet Ottawa Senators tonight in the first game of the Allan Cup final. In elimination leading to this senior hockey championship series the star-studded Caps had little apparent difficulty except for one team—Fort Frances Canadians.

Regia took out Edmonton Flyers last night in a 4-1 victory. Fort Frances would have to send the Canadians to Europe early enough in the fall to enable them to return for the opening of the new hockey season.

Ed. Note: Coach Fraser left last night at 11 o'clock. CABA president of Regia, already had suggested that the Capitals be sent to Europe this fall. Fraser said he had approved of the proposal provided Fort Frances would agree to send the Canadians to Europe early enough in the fall to enable them to return for the opening of the new hockey season.

The offer, the suggestion that Fort Frances Canadians be sent to

LEAF CLUB THROWS MIDGET SHINDIG

Maple Leaf 'A' midget hockey team, Alberta champions, were 'winced' with cocoa and dined away hot dogs as the club executive threw a shindig for them and other players in the outfit's four-team circuit at the clubhouse last night.

Although primarily a pack banquet, entertainment was along other lines and included the 1948 World Series films and a reel of shorts.

Wheat Kings 7-5 Favorites to Win

WINNIPEG, April 28—(CP)—A sell-out crowd of approximately 5,000 will be on hand here tonight when Brandon, Wheat Kings and Montreal Royals square off in the opening game of the best-of-seven Dominion Junior hockey finals for the Memorial Cup.

By 10 p.m., if strong, arrived here yesterday and coach Tag Miller immediately arranged for a skating workout at the Amphitheatre rink. A scene of tonight's battle, Brandon arrives today.

The hockey Memorial crew, led by their speech forward ace, Gordie Knutson, and 16-pound defence-man Tom Manaster, looked none the worse for their long train ride. Meeting here favors Brandon, with the majority of bookies laying 7-5 on the series.

Garneau Bowling

Meeting of the Garneau Lawn Bowling club to elect officers and discuss plans for the coming season will be held Monday night at the clubhouse. Session commences at 8 o'clock.

EAC Ball Drill

EAC's of the Junior Baseball league will hold a workout at Clarke Stadium tonight, starting time being 6 o'clock. All of last year's performers still of junior age and others interested are invited to take in the drill.

Slugging Giants, Bucs Leading NL

Pinch Grand-slam Homer

Boats Brooklyn Bums 11-8

NEW YORK, April 28.—(CP)—There may be no Pel-ler or Newhouse on the New York Giant pitching staff, but Len Durocher's boys are proving their ability to win baseball games at the plate.

(CP continues it doesn't always work.)

The Giants scored 11 runs this day and lost one to one run. The series continues tonight at the club stadium. To beat the Dodgers 11-8 and also clinch a franchise with Pittsburgh Bucs is the National League.

GRAND-SLAM HOMER
A pinch-hitter by rookie Pete Mide with the bases loaded in the seventh inning gave the Giants more victory. Durocher's boys had scored a slugging lead and were headed for defeat. Eleven pitchers headed for defeat. Eleven pitchers headed for defeat in the following order:

A seven rally in the fourth inning gave Chicago Cubs an 8-3 victory over Cincinnati Reds. Earl Verban paced the Cub offense with a double and two singles, driving in four runs.

Cleveland Indians pounded the Chicago pitchers for 13 runs in a 13-1 victory over the White Sox.

The manager Lou Houston suffered from his stomach pain when he was hit on the elbow by one of Cleveland's new players.

An X-ray showed Houston's injury was only a bruise, and he should be ready to play in Cleveland's next contest at St. Louis.

STUPIDITY... TWO HOMERS
Shortstop Vern Stephens drove in five runs for the second time this season to pace Boston Red Sox to a 5-1 triumph over Philadelphia Athletics. Stephens walked two batters.

Paul Lehner's 12th-inning sack won the winning run in a 1-0 victory over the Boston Braves. Lehner and Al Neuhouser of St. Louis finished last night's game.

Washington Senators won their first game since opening day when they fanned out the sluggers leading New York Yankees under new coach Joe Judge in the 10th.

Pittsburgh Pirates led the Giant, led by the National League lead in home runs night game at St. Louis. Mike Piek was picked on by St. Louis team to beat the Cardinals 7-1.

Lefty Warren Boston pitched his first victory of the year, fanning a Philadelphia pitcher as Boston defeated Philadelphia Phillies 2-1.

Europe next year in order to save the world for democracy and to see the first game of the Allan Cup final. In elimination leading to this senior hockey championship series the star-studded Caps had little apparent difficulty except for one team—Fort Frances Canadians.

Regia took out Edmonton Flyers last night in a 4-1 victory. Fort Frances would have to send the Canadians to Europe early enough in the fall to enable them to return for the opening of the new hockey season.

Ed. Note: Coach Fraser left last night at 11 o'clock. CABA president of Regia, already had suggested that the Capitals be sent to Europe this fall. Fraser said he had approved of the proposal provided Fort Frances would agree to send the Canadians to Europe early enough in the fall to enable them to return for the opening of the new hockey season.

Grain Prices Follow Weaker U.S. Market

WINNIPEG, April 28.—(CP)—Early advances in coarse grain prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today were erased when selling and liquidation followed sharp declines on the Chicago market.

Early in the trade there had been good buying from most sources in oats and barley, with exporters particularly interested in barley. Local and other houses had joined the buying side, influenced by the dry weather across the prairie provinces.

Weakness in Chicago, however, unsettled trade, with considerable unaction noted in selling. Rye also fell away sharply, early gains being lost.

The United Kingdom was also active in the market, with wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheel agreement, with South Africa's offer of 200,000 bushels of wheat. A small barley sale was reported to have gone to Belgium.

Closing prices:

Grain	Open	High	Low	Close
Wheat No. 1	1.15 1/2	1.16 1/2	1.15 1/2	1.15 1/2
Wheat No. 2	1.14 1/2	1.15 1/2	1.14 1/2	1.14 1/2
Wheat No. 3	1.13 1/2	1.14 1/2	1.13 1/2	1.13 1/2
Wheat No. 4	1.12 1/2	1.13 1/2	1.12 1/2	1.12 1/2
Wheat No. 5	1.11 1/2	1.12 1/2	1.11 1/2	1.11 1/2

Wheat No. 9	1.07 1/2	1.08 1/2	1.07 1/2	1.07 1/2
Wheat No. 10	1.06 1/2	1.07 1/2	1.06 1/2	1.06 1/2

One time May wheat fell more than seven cents. Other wheat contracts lost more than three cents. Oats and barley were reduced sharply before the close but the market continued highly nervous. Trading was active.

Corn dropped more than four cents before rallying. Other grains delivered at low levels, with the selling onslaught. Soybeans dropped more than four cents at the day's close.

Pit observers said a big elevator house held heavy quantities of May wheat, starting the break.

One factor in the downturn, traders said, was fear that the government would withdraw from the cash wheat market after this week. It will come into possession of large quantities of wheat April 30 when loans on the 1948 crop fall due.

Wheat closed 3 1/4-4 1/2 lower, oats 3 to 3 1/2 lower, rye 2 to 2 1/2 lower, and barley 3 1/4-4 1/2 lower. Closing quotes:

Oil & Gas Group To Remain Firm C & E Continues in Demand; Industrials and Golds Ease

TORONTO, April 28.—(CP)—Western oils were the only group to hold firm in an otherwise weak session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Interest in Calgary and Edmonton held the western oil list on a slightly higher level while industrials backed down on a wide list of fractional Golds weakened from early advances and base metals were slightly lower. Volume was about 610,000 shares.

Calgary and Edmonton continued in demand for the second straight session. The company has an interest in a strategic well between the Woodhead and Ledo fields, Anglo-Canadian also lighted and activity was brisk in British Columbia.

Papers were in a solid one-way downward movement with several issues selling at new lows. Trading tended to increase as the group added, Steels and foods also backed down steadily, but were mixed. Refining oils and construction added small declines.

Gold's stepped advance brought new interest in the market, but it was to go up under pressure of mid-selling in mid-session. Steels and foods added small declines.

Leduc Calmar Plans 3 Wells

By Don Finch
Three additional wells are to be drilled on the acreage held by Leduc Calmar Oil Limited as soon as the present well, Leduc Calmar No. 1 is completed. Good indications of D2 oil have been found at the site, but the well has been dogged by mechanical troubles and received a further setback this week when high level winds toppled the derrick.

Imperial Reventer No. 16 has been placed on production with a initial flow of 1782 barrels of oil daily. No. 12 in the same field has almost reached bottom and additional treatment is being given Egremont No. 3 and Egremont No. 7 has been completed on bed
